

As Promised...When Promised No Exception Our Idea of Flawless Performance

Would you like a trading partner who deals only from the top of the deck...all the time? We of Aircrafters, Inc.® think this aptly describes us as well as the trading partners with whom we wish to work.

Think of Aircrafters, Inc.® as the reliable provider of inventory you no longer need to stock for yourself. We own an extensive inventory and continually replenish and enrich it with components designed to meet our trading partners' continuing and changing requirements.

We list this inventory on ILS (Inventory Locator Services) and AIRS (Airline Inventory Redistribution System) for your convenience, and we keep these listings up-to-date with highly advanced computer inventory tracking capabilities. When we say we have a part in our inventory, we do, and we know its precise location too.

Moreover, we track all material en route into our inventory, out for overhaul, or in transit for delivery. And we always ship it when and as you require.

Our Inventory By-Pass service directly moves parts to those trading partners who have placed standing orders for their recurring needs with us. We consistently acquire and directly channel their required components to them, never at all listing these parts on the electronic inventory services. You can benefit from Inventory By-Pass and free yourself for more effective activities by calling us with your recurring needs and standing order.

That's our idea of flawless performance. Let our veteran Aircrafters, Inc.® team help you prosper.
